Time moves fast, I stay behind (poem)

Maximilian Bahrami · 30 October 2026

Time moves fast, I stay behind Love left scars I can’t unbind Used to be fire, now it’s just smoke You left and I forgot how to cope

(Verse 1) Time moves fast, I stay behind Love left scars I can’t unbind Used to be fire, now it’s just smoke You left and I forgot how to cope

(Pre-Chorus) Still wear your name in my head Like a song I can’t forget

(Chorus) I’m just a passenger, ghost in your lane Watching our love fade in the rain Heart in my hands, tears in my eyes Still fake a smile when I cry Ohhh, I’m just passing through Empty seat, missing you

(Verse 2) Streetlights blur where we used to drive Now I ride solo just to feel alive Every song brings you back Every silence is what I lack

(Pre-Chorus) You moved on, took the wheel Left me in what we used to feel

(Chorus) I’m just a passenger, stuck in the past Thought we were forever — that went too fast Hope in my chest, love in denial But I’d still die with your smile Ohhh, I’m just passing through Young, alone, broken in two

(Bridge – soft, aching) And maybe I’m not the one you need But I still bleed where you used to be

(Final Chorus – bigger, emotional) I’m just a passenger, lost in your light Following shadows through the night Wishin’ you’d look back, just for a while But I’ll keep going, mile after mile Ohhh, maybe I don’t arrive But at least I tried — and I felt alive
